Journal of the Korean Vacuum Society

Information on Submission of Papers to Journal of the Korean Vacuum Society

- Journal of the Korean Vacuum Society, published by the Korean Vacuum Society, features up-to-date reports on significant new findings in vacuum science and related fields. The scope of the journal covers vacuum technology, surface and interface science, plasma and display, semiconductors and thin films, nano science and technology, and energy technology.

- The papers are classified into the research paper, review paper, rapid communications, and brief reports or technical notes, and the Editorial Board may ask the modification and determine whether to accept or not through the reviewing process. The review papers may be freely contributed, but may be requested to an expert of the relevant fields by the Editorial Board.

- The submission of papers may be submitted through 1. e-mail, 2. Website, or 3. regular mail.
  1. When submitting through the e-mail (kvs@kvs.or.kr), please specify the contact information of corresponding author (e-mail, Tel, Fax) along with the copy of paper.
  2. When using the Website, visit the Website of Korean Vacuum Society (http://www.kvs.or.kr) and select Submission of Papers and then Journal of the Korean Vacuum Society.
  3. When submitting through regular mail, send an original copy of printout (including figures) and the storage medium together to the Executive Office of the Korean Vacuum Society.

- At the time of submission, please specify the category of paper (research paper, review paper, rapid communications, and brief reports or technical notes) and the academic field (vacuum technology, surface and interface science, plasma and display, semiconductors and thin films, nano science and technology, and energy technology).

- The manuscript are framed at the standard of A4 using the Arae-A Hangul word processor in principle, and please use Korean terminology as much as possible.

- Please enter about 5 keywords in the first page of paper.

- Abbreviated title is ‘J. Korean Vac. Soc.’

- The status of submitted papers may be checked at the Submission of Paper → Journal of the Korean Vacuum Society → Progress of Examination in the Website of Korean Vacuum Society. The I/D and P/W necessary for access to the Website are attached in the letter of confirmation for receipt of paper, and can be checked through the Executive Office of this Society.

- The publication fee of 30,000 KRW per page should be paid for the papers determined to be published in this academic journal, and 30 copies of basic print copy will be provided. But, the exceptional rule for publication fee may be applied for the papers requested by the Editorial Board.

- Please refer to the regulations on submission of papers to Journal of the Korean Vacuum Society on the Website of Korean Vacuum Society or the back of this Academic journal for other details on submission of papers.